“ *I remember all her hard work and dedication writing the Kennedy family book, The Kennedy Clan, and then making sure to have all the updated information, as well as researching previous generations and being such a big part of the Henry Andrew Kennedy/Nancy Wheat Kennedy reunions. She will be sorely missed. But now she is in Heaven and enjoying reunions with her loved ones who had passed on earlier and getting to know the ancestors she researched. There are no more brick walls for Barbara! Rest in peace, sweet Barbara. My condolences and prayers to Sharp and their children and all the grandbabies and great grands, too. You were all blessed to have had her.*
