“ Lynn and Anna, I found this poem that may bring you comfort. God looked around his Garden and found an empty place. He then looked down upon his earth and saw your loving face. He put his arms around you and lifted you to rest. His Garden must be beautiful, he always takes the best. He knew that you were suffering, he knew you were in pain. And knew that you would never get well on earth again. He saw your path was difficult, he closed you tired eyes, He whispered to you "Peace be Thine" and gave you wings to fly. When we saw you sleeping so calm and free of pain, We would not wish you back to earth to suffer once again. You've left us precious memories, your love will be our guide, You live on through your children, you're always by our side. It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone. For part of us went with you on the day God called you home

“ Lynn and Anna, Our thoughts and prayers are with you during this most difficult time. I know that Brady will be missed by many. God Blessed you with a loving husband and father and will continue to Bless your family. You have tremendous pain now, but I promise that while the pain never goes away, it will be easier to manage it the months to come. I pray that with the help and support of your friends and family this will some how be easier to bear. It will be the little things that you will remember the quiet moments, the smiles, the laughter. And although it may seem hard right now, it will be the memory of these little things that help to push away the pain and bring the smiles back again.

“ continued Brady was a Believer, a true Disciple of Jesus Christ and we spent hours over the years fellowshiping long distance. It was through Brady I eventually met Landon Spradlin and Steve Correll. Brady will be sorely missed by many but the legacy of his music and Anna, the amazing little girl who has grown into a magnificent human being, a testimony of her parents loving care and your twenty-one years together, his impact on you, Lynn, the countless thousands with whom he shared his music, taking it to those "in need of a physician", will live on through eternity.

Brady is with Jesus now and those who love him are left with a void in the physical realm. Yet, he will live on in our hearts and memories, the music he wrote and shared with the world he so gently and genuinely touched. I thank God for Brady Roberts and the unconditional love he brought into my life.

I'll close with my prayer and blessing for You Lynn and for you Anna.

All the Love... Billy

Los Suenos del Dios (The Dreams of God)

*May you mount up with wings as eagles, on the wind of God you soar
May you run and not grow weary, for your strength He will restore
May you walk and never faint, as your heart cries out for more
May the Peace of God be with you
May the Dreams of God be yours*

“ Dear Lynn and Anna, My heart aches for you at this time. I am unable to comprehend the loss you feel. As a friend, meeting Brady was certainly a Divine Appointment that occurred at God's perfect time, although it took a year for the return phone call on my part to transpire. I had a particular phone service that had just changed it's voicemail service. Apparently I had changed over but the service remained active for a period of time. Brady called after I had switched service leaving me a message. I didn't immediately retrieve the message since I had no idea it was there. Fast forward one year, nearly to the date Brady left his message for me. I came across the access number for my old voicemail and decided to call it. Lo and behold there was a message from Brady Roberts, a man in Mississippi. He had left a contact number and I immediately dialed it. Brady answered the phone. That began a friendship with you, Lynn and Brady that has lasted nearly two decades. Even though we only had the opportunity to get face to face once you both grew to mean so much to myself and Melanie. continued
