“ I remember Mike, we went to school together...I remember once he fell at school and bit his tongue almost in two...he couldn't speak for weeks while it healed. I believe that was 8th grade...He was always smiling and joking...we had to wash out hands before going into the lunchroom...he always joked about seeing Moby Dick whale swim by in that hand basin...lol.

I also believe life may have been hard on him, but he never complained.

My sympathies to his family...
