“ I have many many memories of my little sister, we were close in age and there for we grew up best friends. I am heart broken that I allowed us to grow apart these last couple of years, but no matter what I have and will always love her with all my heart. She was a beautiful person with a huge heart. Her and I share a lot of traits, she was amazing. The only thing helping me keep it together is knowing she will always be with me and I will see her again. She took a piece of me with her to heaven. I know she will be my guardian angel. Carina Dawn Locke I love you always!!!

“ I don't even know where to begin with the treasured memories I have of my beautiful baby sister. I still remember her as a child loving animals and playing scientist in the corner insted of playing with barbie dolls. I remember how talented she was with her competitive swimming, and just the beautiful beaming light she always had inside of her. She didn't even know how many lives she touched, or how many ppl she left such an impact on. We had our differences, and we did fight like sisters do....but we always hugged it out in the end and told each other we loved each other no matter what. Theonly comfort I have right now is knowing that she is no longer in pain. She had alot of pain she was working through, and all i ever wanted was for her to be free from the emotional turmoil that was such a burden to her in the past years. i can still feel her with me, and i know I always will. She has a piece of me with her, and I'm blessed enough to still have her spirit with me...

“ I have tons of memories of her. One of many I will share is when we were teens back in high school. I was in my senior year and only had 3 classes during the day. So I would leave school after lunch. Carina wanted me to take her home when I left and I was against it at first, but she talked me into it. She had that sort of way with me. Well, I went out to my truck to go to leave and she and her friend cone racing out to my truck and jumped in. First thing she did was reach for my pack of kools. I wasn't even out the parking lot before she lit up and started messing with my radio while going down the road. I will never forget how Star was furious I let her skip school and ride home with me. I miss the talks for hours we shared right here at home and all the crazy stuff we got into growing up. She had a way with directing her attention to people that needed a laugh or just a listening ear. No matter what was going on, she always wanted to let people know that they mattered. She is greatly missed and deeply loved by me.

“ Dawny came to be my very best friend. When she was a little 5yr old, always climbing in my lap and begging to hang around us older girls, I would've never imagined that. Our bond grew very strong, and a couple years ago stuff happened. Then I got the call there'd never be any more second chances. I miss what we had so bad, and what she brought to me and my children's lives. But once you truly love someone, you always do. I've had such a void since the day that happened 2yrs ago, but now it's a void that'll never be filled. Rest in Heaven Dawny, bc without a doubt that's where you are... you had a loving heart. Til I see you again.

“ Five sparrows sell for two coins of small value, do they not? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God. But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Have no fear; you are worth more than many sparrows -Luke 12:6.
