“ Maw-Maw was an example of how we should all live our lives. I will always cherish the times I spent with her. She taught me with her actions love, kindness, and that all people are God's children. She never judged harshly or looked down on people for their shortcomings. I got to talk with her not long before she passed. She said she wished we could have been closer towards the end. I agreed. I hope to live a life comparable to hers. She had no regrets. I will always hold her memory close to my heart.

“ My deepest sympathies to all of the family. She was such a good "Maw Maw" to all of her grandchildren. She was the kindest and most loving person I knew. She taught me how to cook. She was the best cook I knew. She will be deeply missed by all.

“ Frieda had a wonderful hope which sustain all of Jehovah's People. I didn't know her personally, but my family shares her hope. Memories comfort us as we await the promised resurrection... We know that because Jehovah has a yearning to restore life to the work of His Hands... Job 14:15
