“ Hi, this is Alisha Patten. And she was my momma and the best one any person could have. She loved with all of her heart and soul. Everywhere she went, she was noticed and loved immediately. I miss her every second of every day. I only hope I have become half of the woman she was. I'm sorry she went through this very suffering, debilitating death, and her pain will forever remain in my mind. But I always remember her for the joyful, loving, caring, nurturing mom and woman that she is. Her smile and laughter had the power to change perspectives, feelings, and behaviors of every person that God put in her company. I thank Him for the short but such impactful years I had with her. I'm sorry for all of the times I treated her less than the angel she deserved to be recognized as. I truly appreciate Rob Crain Jr for everything he did at her funeral, and thank y'all for allowing me to do her makeup. Rest in peace momma. I know you see your granddaughters and I and I know how proud you are of the woman I am now. I'm just so sorry I didn't become her until after your death.

“ Ms. Paula, I'm having a terribly difficult time with your death and nobody knows because I'm keeping it all to myself. I loved you and admired you so much. The things I learned from you I will carry with me forever. Hopefully you are smiling down on all us here missing you. hugs and kisses! Bud, I'm sure you know who this is. I miss you and love you to. You are awesome!

I'm just seeing this. You probably know who this is. I still miss her. I found myself here today just thinking about her. I loved to hear her sing and play the piano. She was the most lovely lady.

“ Anthony & family, you have our deepest sympathy & prayers in the loss of Paula. Her courage through very difficult times was an inspiration to all who knew her. Sorry we could not make it to the funeral home, but we were able to have a part in the meal for your family at the church. Dan & Diane

“ Anthony, I had intended to come to the funeral, but I myself am sick and pending a call from the doctor--or a visit to the emergency room for upper respiratory infection. I was saddened to learn of Paula's passing, but this was surely a relief to her. I hope you were able to inform her of my concern and best wishes before she passed. May God bless you and the entire family. She was a beautiful soul who will be sorely missed. I am praying for you. Reggie
