“ Joey, many school mates have been reminiscing on FaceBook about Mr. Meadie with happy, though old, memories; and the use of his store telephone after the movies. Such happy memories, for sure.

And, then, I read this obituary for your son, and my heart began to ache for you and your family. It is not supposed to be this way...our children dying before our time. Nevertheless, it happens; and generally, only God knows the true reasoning.

I will be praying for you and your family while you grieve this painful loss of a child. May the memories of your son envelope you and warm your heart with his laughter.

Most sincerely,
