“ *Mrs. Charlotte and family:
I'm so sorry for your loss. Mr. Troy has always had a special place in my heart. I had the pleasure of being one of his students at Franklinton High School (class of 1997). I enjoyed his Civics class so much that I took an extra history class as a senior just because he was going to be teaching the class. His passion for teaching and love for young people inspired me to pursue a career in education. I've always enjoyed bumping into you guys and catching up. He was an awesome man and will be sadly missed. Love and prayers for all of you.*

“ Ms Charlotte , Randell and all other family members: I have known this family it seems like a 100 years or so. Will not take back the many times we happened upon each other at Burger King nothing like a breakfast sandwich and a good ole cup of java talking the two together once again. about ms Charlotte’s health and how he just wanted to take her back to Tennessee he would just glow at the thought of the two to gather again. Mr Troy will be missed but will always be remembered by the so many lives he touch. Prayers and thoughts of you will be of each day to be.

“ Mr. Ginn was an inspiring teacher my senior year at Enon High School. After high school I left the area and never permanently returned. During the subsequent years I was fortunate to have several lengthy conversations with Mr. Ginn. I respected him and his belief in people. He inspired me to move forward and address life in a productive manner. I will always respect and honor his memory as an educator and wonderful advisor. He will be missed...

“ Troy is very much in the Lords hands – he will be missed by family and friends – I really appreciated this man’s influence in my life – he encouraged me along with his wife in numerous ways. I rejoice that a solider has gone home – his fight is completed and knowing Troy – I am sure he fought an honorable fight with life, and won - through the blood of Jesus. I will remember Troy as one of the best softball pictures I had to pleasure of playing with and against. His commitment and courage to life and to Christ will inspire all who knew him - and to the family, I expresses my deepest sympathy. God bless you and may His peace follow after you.
